

Chesterfield County's Centenarian Club

honoring all those 100 years and older

Do you know someone who will be celebrating their birthday of 100 years or more?

Chesterfield County would like to honor centenarians for their wealth of experience, wisdom and longevity through its Centenarian Program administered by the Chesterfield County Office of the Senior Advocate.

Those who are accepted into the Centenarian Club will be recognized by Chesterfield County on their next birthdays. Additionally, the Senior Advocate will contact the White House Greetings Office to request that each centenarian receive a letter from the president. The information will also be shared with the Virginia legislative delegation.

To nominate yourself or someone you know, submit a completed application packet to the Office of the Senior Advocate no less than two months prior to the Centenarians birthday. The packet must include the following documents:

- *Completed Application
- *Proof of age-100 years or older
- *Proof that the nominee resides in Chesterfield County

For more information or to request an application, email Leidheiserd@chesterfield.gov or call 804-768-7878.
